Report of Principal and School Improvement Council

Students and faculty at Inman Intermediate School hit a homerun this year as we celebrated our theme, "Building a Winning Team." Faculty, students, parents, and community members each had a part in making the first year of Inman Intermediate School a success. The transition from Inman Elementary School to Inman Intermediate School has been a smooth one as all stakeholders worked together to make our vision a reality. Inman Intermediate has continued the strong academic tradition from Inman Elementary School. IIS is committed to using data such as PACT, MAP (Measure of Academic Progress), benchmark testing, and Dominic Assessments in Language Arts to drive our instruction. Teachers are "Kid Watchers" and plan instruction on a daily basis that meets the individual needs of each student. This data analysis was used to form small literacy groups and math focus groups to meet the needs of our students.

Our science coach, math coach, and literacy facilitator support teachers through embedded staff development in research-based best practices in instruction. One hundred percent of our faculty has been involved in an SCRI study course taught at IIS by our academic coaches and literacy facilitator. This course allowed teachers to work on assessments and standards-based instruction. The use of Math Out of the Box and Investigations encourages students to become active participants in the mathematical process. Science instruction is enhanced by the use of inquiry-based science kits and science notebooking. In order to effectively cover the social studies standards, English language arts and social studies are heavily integrated. The use of Reader's and Writer's Workshop allows language arts teachers to form flexible small groups where students can read "just right books," learn important comprehension strategies, and have powerful conversations about what they read and write.

Our 21st century afterschool and summer program, in its fourth year, meets the academic, social, emotional, and physical needs of over 40 qualifying students. In accordance with the Economic and Education Development Act (EEDA), a trained career Development Facilitator provides an emphasis on awareness of careers in all grade levels.

IIS was selected as a SC Red Carpet School in recognition of our customer service and family-friendly environment. The National School Public Relations Association also recognized IIS this year for our outstanding website. Our mission at Inman Intermediate School is "to develop responsible citizens and future leaders through acceptance, high expectations, and personal pride, building a safe, productive, nurturing environment uniting family, community, and school." The faculty and staff of IIS invite you to take an active part in your child's education and join us in fulfilling our mission for the students of Inman Intermediate School.
