Report of Principal and School Improvement Council

Midway Elementary School of Science and Engineering has had another outstanding year! Our community has built a tradition of educational excellence in the Anderson area. At Midway, children are held accountable to high standards of achievement, parents and other visitors are always welcome, teachers and staff truly care about the children, and students know how to help others by "doing the right thing."

This school year, Midway received an absolute rating of "Excellent" for outstanding student achievement on the annual school report card issued by the state and received a Palmetto Gold Incentive Award from the South Carolina Department of Education. In turn, the school met all federal "No Child Left Behind" Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) goals. Furthermore, the school was only one of six elementary schools in the state to be named a Palmetto's Finest Finalist, the most prestigious honor a school can receive in South Carolina.

To carry on its tradition of academic excellence and innovative programs, Midway opened its doors this year as "Midway Elementary School of Science and Engineering," a theme school dedicated to STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) Education. As the first STEM school in Anderson School District Five, Midway provided a seamless transition to the district's middle and high school engineering programs. Partnerships with McCants Middle School, T.L. Hanna High School, Hanna-Westside Extension Campus, Tri-County Technical College, and MAD Science of Clemson, along with nationally recognized engineering programs such as "Project Lead the Way," "Engineering by Design," and "Children's Engineering," became an integral part of the Midway culture.

Finally, opportunities for students to use innovation, inventiveness, and imagination in their studies of engineering concepts abound. For the second year in a row, students in the gifted and talented program participated in "Engineering by Design" lessons, and a STEM After-School Club allowed third through fifth grade students to study computer programming and robot design. "Coffee with the Principal" sessions focused on literacy-based engineering activities and teamed students with their parents in problem solving situations. For the first time this year, all fifth grade students were involved in "Project Lead the Way" elementary lessons once a week. All Midway teachers completed a "Children's Engineering" book study which helped them to integrate engineering design lessons into their current curriculum and to encourage students to creatively find solutions to engineering design problems. Lastly, a summer robotics camp was held to introduce students to computer programming and robot design.
