REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

Saluda Elementary School embraced Common Core State Standards (CCSS) with an "All In" attitude. Teachers participated in a summer course led by the Superintendent to unpack the CCSS. Teachers created units of study in all content areas to support the rigor of the new standards. Teachers and administration continue to utilize MAP (Measures of Academic Progress) and PASS (Palmetto Assessment of State Standards) data to improve instructional efforts and target areas of needed professional development. In addition, teachers continue to grow professionally through PLCs (Professional Learning Communities), where student achievement is the focus.

Students at Saluda Elementary School were surrounded with learning opportunities. In addition to regular day instruction, a forty-five minute Power Period was set aside each day to deliver targeted instruction to focus on any achievement gaps at SES. Clubs were added to the schedule to meet once a month. This year's clubs were: adopt a soldier, etiquette, drama, horse, sewing, crafts, and boys to men, among others. Students in grades three through five joined the Sunshine Math club and participated in the second annual Math Bowl competition located at Saluda Elementary School to build on their problem solving skills. The SES Gifted and Talented program continues to grow as well as the National Elementary Honor Society membership. Field trips to the SC State House, Riverbanks Zoo, and the Barrier Islands in Charleston provided students with real world learning experiences.

Parental and community involvement continue to be important at Saluda Elementary. Attendance for parent/teacher conferences in the fall was outstanding. 100% of our parents made contact. Parent nights included curriculum night, tailgate with teachers, Multiplication Mania, and PASS information night. The Pride of SES Honors Choir presented two musicals: Dear Santa and Cinderella. In October, SES launched the Olweus Bullying Prevention Program.

Pamela Chestnut was named Teacher of The Year.
