South Carolina State Report Card

State and federal laws require public schools to release report cards to the public each year. This year, the report card has been updated to reflect changes in reporting directed by the SC Education Oversight Committee. Schools will not be rated for state accountability purposes until Fall 2017 when the state will transition to a single accountability system. The following reports student performance in school year 2014-15.

WORLD CLASS SKILLS & LIFE AND CAREER CHARACTERISTICS

Cannons Elementary School is helping all students develop the world class skills and life and career characteristics of the Profile of the South Carolina Graduate by providing a learning environment where students are valued and challenged to reach their potential. The faculty, staff, students, and parents worked together to focus on maintaining an excellent school climate in order for students to learn about and know they are valued members of their school. Students and staff worked together to donate to several charitable organizations such as The American Cancer Society, the Humane Society and The March of Dimes. These efforts provided opportunities for students to see beyond their school and show support to the community through purposeful learning experiences. A combination of assessment tools such as Measures of Academic Progress, portfolio assessment, teacher-created formative assessments and district summative assessments made it possible to review each student's strengths and build challenging, relevant and personalized instruction. Cannons is an Arts in the Basic Curriculum school site where grants from the South Carolina Department of Education, the South Carolina Arts Commission and the Greater Spartanburg Arts Council support student learning. Students experienced art in a variety of forms allowing them to build connections to the core curriculum through innovation, problem solving, collaboration and creativity. Authentic learning experiences in science, technology, engineering, arts, and mathematics mirrored skills students will need in their future careers. Students used technology to create and publish research, produce performances that integrated arts and other content and to build fluency and knowledge in all subjects. Our district strongly supported professional development in the areas of technology, and curriculum development for all subjects. Teachers collaborated across the district to plan high quality instruction using student performance data. We trained new Reading Recovery teachers and provided staff development on high quality literacy instruction. Consultants from Clemson worked with our district math/science coach to train teachers in best practices for teaching mathematics and science. A select group of teachers attended iSTEM with a district team. Teachers from Cannons attended summer institutes and ABC networking meetings to strengthen their learning about arts integration and STEAM strategies. The School Improvement Council, PTO, parents and community continue to enhance learning at Cannons Elementary with their involvement and support. We thank our school community for their support as we continue to work together to develop our future South Carolina graduates as leaders in their school, community and world!
