The IHE Portal Welcome Page

The screenshot shows the IHE Portal Welcome Page. At the top left is the IHe logo. To its right, the text 'Institutions of Higher Education' is displayed in a serif font. Below this, the page is divided into two sections: 'South Carolina Department of Education' on the left and 'Division of School Effectiveness' on the right. A navigation menu on the left side includes links for Home, Reports, Candidates, Admin, Logout, and Data Entry Instructions. The main content area features a personalized welcome message for Mary Hipp, followed by the division name and a large headline for 'IHE Headline News'. Below the headline is a link to 'Add/Edit News' and a sub-headline for '2010-11 Formal Evaluation Results'. The post is dated 10-26-2011 and contains a paragraph of text regarding the availability of evaluation results for IHE graduates in South Carolina public schools.

Please enter a report year and an ADEPT evaluation type.

Year: Evaluation Type:

Here, the year 2010 refers to the 2009-10 academic year. The report available will contain the ADEPT results for the institution's graduates who were formally evaluated during the selected school year in a South Carolina school district. Most of these teachers, but not all, completed the preparation program at the IHE two years earlier.

You can now view the student teaching results for previous years through the IHE Portal. Select the Reports menu and then select Student Teacher Results Worksheet. You will then be able to select a previous year's graduates.

Reviewing Results Annually

- The ADEPT Office will notify IHEs when the reports for the previous school year become available each fall.
- The Office of Educator Preparation use these data for Title II reporting purposes.

Analyzing the Results

- After viewing and saving the report, the IHE's first task is to verify that each teacher attached to the institution is a graduate of one of your preparation programs.
- If you find a teacher whose results should not be included in the report for your institution, please notify Mary Hipp in the Office of Educator Evaluations.

Analyzing the Results

- The next step is to look for patterns or needed areas for improvement suggested by the data.
- Analyze the results by program area and by performance standards.
- Consider reviewing selected student teaching results and other candidate records on individual graduates to determine possible areas for improvement.

ADEPT Program Evaluation and Planning

- Use the IHE ADEPT Program Evaluation and Assurances template as a planning tool to identify programmatic changes and training needs that will further support the professional growth and development of your teacher candidates.
