District Superintendent's Report

During the 2007-2008 school year, Lexington School District Two remained committed to our motto, "Champions for Children," as we served approximately 9,000 students in nine elementary schools, an early childhood center, four middle schools, two high schools, an alternative school, and an adult education center. We are moving toward the completion of our 2002 Bond Referendum as we continue to address our facility needs. Airport High School's project is almost complete and the B.C. High School building endeavor is well underway.

With the support of our Board of Trustees, Lexington Two continues to make progress toward our academic goals. Our ability to exceed the state in all state and national testing programs is due to the dedication of our staff, parents, and students. Lexington Two achieved district accreditation by successfully completing the SACS-CASI review process. The district's schools attained a number of awards and accolades for excellence in student achievement.

Claude A. Taylor Elementary and Herbert H. Wood Elementary Schools received the Palmetto Silver award for achieving a good absolute and/or improvement rating on the 2007 State Report Card. Busbee Creative Arts Academy and B.C. High School received the state's Exemplary Writing Award for their commitment to writing across the curriculum. Both schools received this award for two consecutive years. The South Carolina Education Oversight Committee honored Pineview and Taylor Elementary Schools for Closing the Achievement Gap with historically underachieving groups. Davis Elementary School for Technology received the S.C. Association for Education Technology State Innovation Award for Technology. Lexington School District Two Adult Education earned the highest general education development pass rate in South Carolina.

Lexington Two encourages teacher excellence through professional growth and in 2007-2008, 16 teachers received National Board Certification, bringing the district total to 125. This year's graduating seniors earned $8.5 million in academic achievements and scholarships. Lexington Two continues to address challenges as we provide the necessary staffing and programs to continue making student achievement our top goal.

In fulfilling our commitment to providing staff and students with the most technologically advanced tools for teaching and learning, Lexington School District Two has authorized capitol improvement funds for the acquisition of sophisticated hardware and software. This commitment will also support the district's desire of insuring technological proficiency among both our staff and students.

Lexington Two will continue to use a results-based, data-driven decision-making process to offer the best possible programs for our students. We thank parents and community members for their constant support as we work together to be "Champions for Children."

Barry F. Bolen, Superintendent
