REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

The 2007-2008 school year marked Lockhart School's first year as a K-8 school. Prior to this year, Lockhart School had housed grades K through 12. However, a consolidation of the county's high schools changed the complexion of Lockhart School. Although the year was marked by change, it was also a year of growth and achievement.

Lockhart School received the Palmetto Gold Award based on the performance of the 2006-2007 school year. The faculty and staff rededicated their efforts to the academic, social, emotional and physical needs of our students. Writing Across the Curriculum became a school-wide initiative aimed at improving academic achievement in all content areas. Publishing teacher and parent writings along with student work, hosting a family slogan writing night, and enjoying student readers during morning announcements were among the writing activities introduced this year. A student from Lockhart School wrote the district's winning essay for the Lieutenant Governor's Essay Contest.

Utilizing district benchmark tests and MAP testing, teachers were able to analyze data to determine students' academic strengths and weaknesses and address those through instruction. Strategies used to meet individual academic needs included differentiated instruction, Compass Odyssey, small group settings, and brain-based research strategies. Character education and conflict resolution programs have been implemented to nurture the social and emotional growth and development of the students.

Improvements have been made in the physical plant as well. New playground equipment has been organized within the boundaries of a state of the art impact floor. Several areas of the building have been painted and repairs have been made to ceilings. Planned improvements include new flooring and painting with consideration in replacing existing windows.

In conclusion, expectations are high that Lockhart School will continue to hold itself to the high standards of the past. When everyone works together, all things are possible. We remain committed to our motto, "Lockhart School, Education for a Lifetime."
