Report of Principal and School Improvement Council

The Johnson Middle School community has banded together to work toward increasing student achievement. We had a record turnout of over 200 people for our annual P.A.S.S. Night for Parents. The Timmonsville Boys and Girls Club sponsored numerous Ice Cream Socials, Pizza Parties, and even took students out to eat at area restaurants.

We focused on two things this year at JMS: Teaching and Learning. The teaching piece was enhanced by a book study of Classroom Motivation From A to Z by Blackburn. A consultant was secured to facilitate sessions on incorporating various instructional strategies into the classroom. Using Robert Marzano's Classroom Instruction That Works as the guide, the consultant was charged with developing in each teacher a number of different instructional strategies that they could take back to their classes and begin using immediately.

The Learning piece was implemented by administering pre/post tests and quarterly benchmark tests created from the Anderson Five Curriculum and Tests for Higher Standards item banks. These test results were analyzed to determine strengths and weaknesses and to inform teachers of areas needing to be re-taught.

We are pleased that 100% of our 8th grade students who took Algebra 1 passed the End of Course Test! We also had 100% of our 8th grade students who took English 1 pass the End of Course Test as well!

Johnson Middle School students excelled in other areas as well. A JMS student was the Superintendent's Writing Award District winner, and students were chosen to participate in the Eastern District Honor Band Clinic and in the Region 5 Honor Band Clinic.

A school-wide initiative to improve student literacy was implemented, during which daily 30-minute self-selected reading sessions were coupled with regular weekly reading conferences between teachers and students. Additionally, students participated in the Accelerated Reader Program, for which frequent opportunities for incentives were available.

Things are looking up for Johnson Middle School, "Where Every Child Is A Priority!"
