REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

The 2008-09 school year was another successful and exciting time for Cherokee Trail Elementary School. We continue to strive to utilize and promote educational technology. Our emphasis again this year is to increase the use of technology to enhance instructional strategies. Elmos and SMART Boards were purchased for every classroom, and the faculty has been trained to incorporate a variety of methods of instruction to meet the needs of the various learning styles at our school. Twenty-five computers were placed in the library for student use, new computers were purchased for the computer lab, and each classroom received a new computer.

Several students were recognized for outstanding accomplishments. A seventh grader was recognized by Governor Mark Sanford at the Governor's Citizenship Award Ceremony in Columbia. A fifth grade student was honored in Columbia as the District Winner in the State Superintendent's Writing Awards. Several students were awarded certificates and monetary awards in the Soil and Water Conservation Contest. Five seventh grade students participated in the Duke Talent Identification Program.

Our faculty, staff, and students volunteered their time and efforts in school-wide and community projects. Cherokee Trail contributed food to the annual Due West Thanksgiving Community Dinner, My Brother's Keeper, and to needy children at the school. Over $3000 was raised this year for two local children with cancer and for the American Heart Association.

Faculty members received several awards. Margaret Farmer was selected Teacher of the Year, and last school year's Teacher of the Year, Adrienne Padner, was selected Abbeville County Teacher of the Year. Angie Nickles received an EIA Grant for $1800 to allow fifth grade students to learn about the television news business. The highlight of the grant was a tour of the CNN studios in Atlanta.

Our PTO and School Improvement Council are appreciated for their contributions and hard work. Through their work several significant improvements were made. Most notable were the addition of intercom speakers to the lunchroom and to the gym, and an outside water fountain for use at recess.
