REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

Gilbert Elementary School continues its "Our School is Four Walls with Tomorrow Inside" theme for the 10th year. We do this because we believe that what we do positively affects our students' futures.

We see increasing numbers of students who need financial assistance and increasing numbers of students who arrive with learning barriers as well as social and emotional needs. We find ourselves challenged but poised to meet the needs of all of our children through professional development and by using strategy-based instruction and personalized learning.

As part of our 21st century collaborative effort, the School Improvement Council, PTA and faculty work together as a team to ensure student success and to maintain a positive learning environment. Teachers continue to grow through Professional Learning Communities and Team Learning. Our Literacy Coach led the implementation of our balanced literacy program. As a Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports school, teachers and staff received Steven Covey's "The Leader in Me" book to support our efforts to provide a positive learning culture. It has been very beneficial as we model and cultivate positive behaviors in and out of the classroom.

Our mathematics coach worked with teachers on our First in Math lab program and supported teachers in the Everyday Mathematics program that provides students with opportunities to improve their math skills. Our technology integration specialist continued to give teachers strategies on how to use technology in their daily lessons. Response to Intervention also targets strategic ways that teachers can implement meaningful instruction and continue closing the achievement gap.

Teachers continue to use data provided by norm-referenced Measure of Academic Progress tests, benchmark testing from Voyager Passport Vital Indicators of Progress, common assessments and the Palmetto Assessment of State Standards tests. With this data, students and teachers set goals together and measure each student's individual growth throughout the year.

The S.C. Department of Education once again celebrated GES's academic improvement and excellence by giving us a Palmetto Silver Award. GES also received a visit from a Palmetto's Finest Team after submitting an application for this prestigious award. GES supported Relay For Life by raising $15,735.44. In recognition of our efforts, GES won a Top Team award. One of the many grants received was "Project Playground," a new beautification program that brought trees, picnic tables, benches and shrubbery to the GES playground. A "Carolina Garden" grant we received also helped give our campus a new and fresh look.

Through the help and support of all stakeholders, we feel confident we are preparing our children to be 21st century global learners and citizens.
