REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

For 45 years Seven Oaks Elementary School (SOES) has maintained a tradition of excellence in teaching and learning and generations of families have entered these doors. In the fall of 2010, SOES once again met AYP (Adequate Yearly Progress) in all 17 categories and Seven Oaks earned the Palmetto Silver and Closing the Achievement Gap Awards for academic gains. Terry Davitte was recognized as Teacher of the Year for our school, and Mary Wyatt was named our Support Employee of the Year. Lynda Bergerson was chosen as Distinguished Literacy Teacher of the Year. Five of our students were chosen to participate in the District Honor Choir and six were selected to the South Carolina Elementary Honor Choir. An art student received a State Fair Award.

Seven Oaks Elementary began two school-wide initiatives in 2010-11: RTI (Response to Intervention) and PBIS (Positive Behavior Interventions and Support). RTI is a multi-tiered approach to intervention for struggling readers and PBIS is a proactive behavior plan in a school wide-approach.

The SOES Media Center has been renovated and equipped with a second laptop cart, iPads and Kindles to foster digital 21st Century learning. The media center profiled a Web 2.0 Tool of the Month (i.e. Wordle, Voki, Comic Creator, and more!) throughout the school year. Hundreds of new PlayAways and books were purchased with popcorn and movie night profits. Technology has been integrated into all curriculum areas and skyping with scientist and authors as far away as New Zealand has bridged our learners with the world.

The partnership between businesses and community is vital to our success. This year's Volunteer of the Year is Cheryl Rueter, who shared her talents as the yearbook editor and homeroom mom. The Business Partner of the Year is New Life Baptist Church because they allowed our staff and parents to use their parking lot during our renovations project. Reverend Joel Jones is our Outstanding Mentor of the Year for his dedication over the past several years and the recruitment of several mentors from Ashland United Methodist Church.

Our students and staff donated food to the Irmo High School Food Bank, participated in the Battle on the Dam, collected monies for the Red Cross Relief Fund in Japan and Jump Rope for Heart. SOES students' families have received support from our Seven Oaks Cares program and Snack Pack Program provided by Union Methodist Church. Seven Oaks Presbyterian Church, New Life Baptist, Columbia Crossroads Church and Ashland United Methodist Church have shared their facilities, parking lots, and provided food for us during our renovations and our staff, parents and students have been grateful for these acts of kindness.
