REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

The 2012-2013 school year proved to be another successful campaign for J. S. Wright Middle School. The hard work of our students and teachers coupled with tremendous parental and community support provided the framework for an environment which fostered great academic achievement.

J. S. Wright Middle School was honored to be the recipient of the Palmetto Gold Award. The efforts of the faculty and staff continue to place Wright Middle School near the top of all middle schools in the state in academic achievement. While our student body performed well as a group, we were especially pleased to have 11 8th graders to be named SC Junior Scholars this year.

Given all the possible factors for a decline in our purpose of educating our young people, our school continues to improve. Given the standards by which public schools are measured in South Carolina, Wright Middle School continues to perform among the highest achieving middle schools in the state. This high performance, in spite of one of the lowest funding levels in the state, is due to several factors. A supportive Superintendent and district staff is essential. Also, a committed faculty and staff continue to bring out the best in all our students. Undergirding these factors is the support of our parents and community.

The faculty and staff of J. S. Wright Middle School take seriously the challenge of providing a safe and superior education for the middle school students of our community. We are grateful to have such an opportunity and will do the necessary work to continue to provide this service to our students and their families.

Mark L. Smith, School Improvement Council, Chair
F. R. (Dick) Williams, Jr., Principal
