REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

James M. Brown Elementary School is a Title 1 school nestled in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains in Oconee County and serves 675 students in PreK through 5th grade. The mission of James M. Brown Elementary School is to develop lifelong learners who are respectful, responsible, and honest citizens by providing meaningful educational experiences for all students. This mission was evident throughout the 2013-2014 school year as we strived for excellence each and every day.

We began the 2013-2014 school year with the following curricular goals at the forefront of our instructional program: literacy in all classrooms and content areas, using data to drive instruction, implementing technology, implementing the Common Core State Standards, and focusing on our interventions and enrichment program. Coupled together, these goals drive our curriculum, instruction, and assessment in order to maximize student achievement.

Our Parent Teacher Organization (PTO) and School Improvement Council (SIC)/Title I Committee continue to be active participants in JMB's successes. PTO sponsored several school events such as a literacy pumpkin contest, Donuts for Dads, Trunk-a-Treat, and Muffins for Moms. Our SIC/Title I Committee was actively involved with the creation of the Title I plan by making recommendations and suggestions for continued school improvement.

The James M. Brown Elementary family of students, faculty, staff, parents, and community celebrated an exceptional 2013-2014 school year. We began the school year celebrating our school being identified as a Reward Schools of Performance which is a top performing Title 1 school. The school was also honored to be named a Palmetto Silver Award school for Closing the Achievement Gap. These two awards are possible due to the dedication and commitment of our students, teachers, families, and our community. James M. Brown Elementary also had a student to win the PalmettoPride state art contest, a student to win the district and Southeast region for Future Chef, a student won a writing contest and received a fishing experience with pro anglers, our team of students placed first in the district's annual Battle of the Books contest, and a student finished in the top ten in the district's annual Math Madness event. We truly had a fantastic year!

James M. Brown Elementary School has exceptional students, faculty, staff, families, and community members who strive to provide the best educational experience for our students, and because of this, our JMB GEMS shine brightly.
