South Carolina State Report Card

State and federal laws require public schools to release report cards to the public each year. This year, the report card has been updated to reflect changes in reporting directed by the SC Education Oversight Committee. Schools will not be rated for state accountability purposes until Fall 2017 when the state will transition to a single accountability system. The following reports student performance in school year 2014-15.

WORLD CLASS SKILLS & LIFE AND CAREER CHARACTERISTICS

Springfield Middle School is helping all students develop the world class skills and life and career characteristics of the Profile of the South Carolina Graduate by working with students to prepare them for life after middle school. We provide a variety of instructional programs and practices that are adjusted to the needs of each student. We have many ways for students to work toward success and to prepare for their futures. The rigorous work in the classroom is evidenced by how well our students do on their End of Course tests in Algebra One and English One. When students are not achieving as they should, we provide them with many different opportunities for help and improvement. Our after-school homework and academic help program is offered twice a week for an hour at the end of the school day. We provide transportation and ask students who are struggling to participate. We help students with organization by providing three-ring binders and by giving instructions on methods related to organization. Our Mustangs Read and Mustang Writing Rules provide students with a structure for reading and writing. Our teachers offer time for our students to come in for help on homework and for help with understanding of the content taught. This happens before school, at lunch, and after school. Students are prompted to show creativity and innovation in their work and thinking. Problem solving is evident when students work on projects such as the egg drop, catapult building, robotics, or when they work with the gardening team on our garden project. These are just a few of the learning experiences that students have when project based learning is used. There is collaboration between students, between teachers, and between students and teachers in our school. Students are exposed to collaboration during WEB, which stands for "Where Everybody Belongs". This is a middle school orientation and transition program that welcomes 6th/7th graders and helps them feel comfortable throughout the first year of their middle school experience. Our Horsepower Half Hour is a time of relationship building with students and staff. We want students to think, self-correct, and problem solve during all planned and unplanned activities. In closing, we want our students to be prepared for their futures. College and career readiness is a collective effort of the K-12 years. We strive to prepare and encourage students to become well-rounded individuals ready to accept their roles in an ever-changing society. Keith Griffin, Principal Michael Wheeler, SIC Chair
