

Theory of Action

IF

If the OSES provides professional development to special education teachers in the areas of goal-writing and progress monitoring that is aligned to the Science of Reading, special education teachers will increase their ability to identify specific areas of student need for literacy instruction, special education teachers will increase their ability to provide targeted, systematic, explicit, evidence-based literacy instruction to students, and students with disabilities will improve reading performance as evidenced by improved scores on grade 3 SC READY ELA.

THEN

THEN

THEN
