RE: Tutoring Services

The South Carolina Department of Education (SCDE) is partnering with the South Carolina State Library (SCSL) to offer tutoring services for any student who may need to take advantage of this opportunity. This service is funded through the state's allocation of Elementary and Secondary School Emergency (ESSER) funds and is available at no cost to students. Tutor.com is the provider of the service and can be accessed through Discus at the state library website.

Information and directions on how to connect with this service can be found at this link: tutoring services. Please note, the directions linked at the end of the information page will take you to step-by-step instructions of accessing Tutor.com through Discus.

Please contact me at dmathis@ed.sc.gov or Patricia Sinclair, psinclair@statelibrary.sc.gov, if you have any questions.
