RE: Webinar to Support the Middle and High School Bundling Guides for Science

The Office of Assessment and Standards Science Team is excited to announce the release of the Middle and High School Bundling Guides for Science a new resource to support teachers of science in their instructional planning. These resources can be found on the Science Instructional Resources Webpage. The Science Team will be hosting a webinar for teachers of science, science teacher leaders, and administrators responsible for science instruction in their buildings and/or districts to promote the implementation of this resource.

The same webinar will be offered twice. Live attendees can earn 1.5 hours of SCDE Activity Renewal Credit. Please only register for one of the webinar times.
