- The U.S. Secret Service's National Threat Assessment Center (NTAC) will host a virtual event on August 13 from 12:00-2:30 p.m. to highlight the Center's latest release, titled Aligning Behavioral Threat Assessment and Management with a Multi-tiered System of Support: Building a Continuum of Prevention and Intervention. NTAC's newest publication was published in partnership with the Center on Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) and focuses on how education practitioners can best align BTAM programs alongside multi-tiered systems of support (MTSS) in K-12 schools. This event will further highlight key findings and implications from NTAC's decades of research and guidance on school violence prevention. This free virtual event is appropriate for educators, school and district administrators, counselors, school psychologists, BTAM team members and coordinators, MTSS and PBIS leadership teams, state education agency personnel, law enforcement officers, and other school safety partners. Registrants will be emailed a Microsoft Teams link prior to the event. Register here.
