Competency 1.4. Identify a variety of traditional and nontraditional careers.

National Career Development Guidelines Goal/Indicator

- Career Management: GOAL CM3. Use accurate, current, and unbiased career information during career planning and management.
Indicator CM3.K5. Identify occupations you might consider without regard to your gender, race, culture, or ability.

Lesson Objectives

1. Students explain the term “nontraditional career.”
2. Students identify at least two nontraditional careers for women and two nontraditional careers for men.
3. Students learn about a career from a woman’s perspective by interviewing a woman they know.
4. Students identify at least one nontraditional career they might consider.

Assessment

1. Students interview a woman they know about her career and complete the Career Questionnaire worksheet.

Preparation

- Prior Learning—NA
- Handouts/Worksheets—Career Questionnaire worksheet
- Resources—Optional: SCOIS, O*Net (www.onetcenter.org), Occupational Outlook Handbook, and other career information books/videos
- Time Required—60 minutes plus home assignment

Procedures

Part One (30 minutes)

- Introduce the term “nontraditional career” by asking students what they think it means. After a brief discussion of their ideas, tell the students that a nontraditional career for a woman is one in which only 25% of the workers are female. A nontraditional career for a man is one in which only 25% of the workers are male.

- Have students brainstorm the names of some careers they think might be nontraditional for women, for men. Write the list on the chalkboard.
- Engage students in a discussion of whether or not they would consider working in a nontraditional career. What are some of the advantages and disadvantages of working in a nontraditional career?
- Tell students they are to interview a woman they know about her career.
- Give students a copy of the Career Questionnaire worksheet and review the questions on it, as well as appropriate behavior when interviewing someone.

Part Two (30 minutes)

- After students have conducted the interview and completed the worksheet, have them briefly share some information from the interview. List the careers the women held. Are any of the careers nontraditional careers? Are any of the careers of interest to the students? What kind of education and training was required? What did the students learn from this experience?
- Suggest to students that they might use SCOIS, O*Net (www.onetcenter.org), or visit the library to further explore occupations.
