2. Students will identify at least two of their own strengths and positive personal qualities.

Assessment

1. Students will write a letter of recommendation, using correct business letter format, that demonstrates their understanding of the some strengths and positive personal qualities needed to get and keep jobs.
2. Students will describe at least two of their own strengths and positive personal qualities.

Preparation

- Prior Learning—Writing business letters, introduction to Skills for a Lifetime
- Handouts/Worksheets—Seven Keys to Employability handout, Business Letter handout
- Resources/Materials—writing materials, The Adventure of the Speckled Band by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle
- Time Required—10 minutes to introduce the activity, 35 minutes for students to write, 20 minutes for discussion

Procedures

Part One (45 minutes)

- Using a character analysis of Sherlock Holmes, this activity expands students' awareness of a variety of skills and personal qualities that are needed to get and keep jobs.
- After reading The Adventure of the Speckled Band by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, give the students the assignment of writing a letter of recommendation from a satisfied customer, in this case Helen Stoner, Holmes's client in the story, recommending Holmes's services.
- Engage students in a discussion about employability skills. If they were to hire a detective, what are the kinds of skills and personal qualities they would look for?
- Review the Seven Keys to Employment handout for reference.
- Have the students write a letter of recommendation for Sherlock Holmes from the perspective of Helen Stoner. Begin by asking students what they know about letters of recommendation? Who writes them? For what purpose?
- Review the elements of a business letter using the Business Letter handout.
- To complete the letter of recommendation, tell students to carefully search through the story to find details which will demonstrate Helen Stoner's satisfaction with Holmes's work.

Part Two Career Development Connections (20 minutes)

- Have students share some of the skills and personal qualities they identified for the Sherlock Holmes letter of recommendation. Do I as a student have any of these skills? If yes, what are they?
- Are there some employability skills and personal qualities that are needed for every job? What are some examples?
- Have students review the Seven Keys to Employment handout and check those skills and qualities they now possess.
