Report of Principal and School Improvement Council

There were significant improvements at Arden Elementary School during the 2007-2008 school year. Our major focus was literacy: working with our students to have them reading and writing by the end of grade 3. Our School Improvement Council made this their area of focus as well, and geared their activities toward literacy. Professional development activities focused on high-yield strategies and effective teaching practices designed to improve literacy.

Several initiatives were implemented with literacy in mind: Smart Matters meetings focused on literacy skills that parents could work on at home with their children in Pre-K, Kindergarten, and grade 1; Leapfrog phonics learning games were purchased for all students in our Pre-K class and students were able to take these games home over the summer so that parents could continue the learning activities; students in Kindergarten, first, and second grades were placed in small homogeneous groups for 30 minutes of SIPPS reading instruction daily, non-homeroom teachers and instructional assistants helped with the instruction; an instructional assistant was hired to assist with literacy in grade 1; five retired teachers worked with students who needed individual tutoring in ELA and Math in grades 1-5 three days per week; our 21st Century grant partnership with Columbia College, provided after-school tutoring to 40 students in grades 1-5; fifteen tutors, sponsored by the United Way, mentored and tutored students two days per week; and the Wee Deliver writing program was implemented school-wide.

Our School Improvement Council sponsored an Evening at the Richland County Public Library, kept families informed of monthly activities at the library, and recommended the Leapfrog learning games for our Pre-K students. Council members participated in activities such as speaking to and encouraging the student body, tutoring students, writing articles for our school newsletter, and informing parents of our progress.

Staff members participated in numerous staff development activities designed to improve our students' literacy skills. High-yield strategies training, SIPPS training, and workshops on collaborative team planning helped teachers address individual student needs. Daily monitoring of instruction through classroom walk-throughs provided data that informed the entire staff of the need to implement strategies that had the greatest impact on student achievement.

While our PACT results showed improvement in the percent of students moving from Below Basic to Basic, our continued challenge is to get our students to the Proficient and Advanced levels of achievement. The initiatives that we began this year related to literacy will be continued next year with the addition of SIPPS instruction in grades 3, 4, and 5. We will continue to seek ways to meet the needs of all of our students to ensure that they are proficient readers and writers by the end of grade 3.
