Report of Principal and School Improvement Council

Our 2007-2008 school year began with the theme "It's a New Day in the Forest" and a refurbished facility that boasted a new paint job, new carpet, new gymnasium floors, and new furniture. Also, with our two feeder middle schools moving to their own facilities, our students were able to enjoy a less crowded environment.

The faculty, staff, students, and administration at CFHS are excited about our continued progress toward student achievement. The 2007-2008 school year culminated with a graduation ceremony that included 293 seniors being offered almost seven million dollars in scholarships. It is our goal to provide an environment where all students have opportunities to reach their potential and exceed their expectations through academics, the arts, and athletics.

Our major focus for the year was literacy. Through our media center, students and faculty participated in the S.C. Department of Education's summer reading challenge, "No Book Left Unread," with our school being named the overall winner. During the year, teachers used data from various online programs to improve End-of-Course test results in Physical Science, English, Math, and U.S. History; SAT and ACT test results; and HSAP test results. We are excited about the number of achievement gains in these areas.

CFHS was pleased to have our Mock Trial team finish first in the regional competition. Members of our FBLA competed in district competitions and won five 1st place events, two 2nd place events, and one 3rd place event. Our NJROTC unit received the "Unit Achievement" award from the Navy. Our student newspaper was awarded an All-Southern rating from SIPA, the Southern Interscholastic Press Association, and an All-State and the prestigious Palmetto Award from SCSPA, the S.C. Scholastic Press Association. The 2007 yearbook earned an honor rating from SCSPA. The Forest Fire broadcast staff received a Superior rating from SIPA and Honor rating from SCSPA.

Our Fine Arts department received many honors and recognitions during the year. One of our band students was invited to perform in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City. Our concert and show choirs received superior ratings in the Festival Disney competition in Orlando, Florida, with the show choir receiving both "Best of Class" and the "Gold Mickey" awards for the highest score of the event. Four of our students received the "Judges Choice" award for their quartet performance, and one of our students received the "Best Soloist" award for the competition. Our theater students competed in a regional Thespian competition and won the Platinum Award Plaque, which is top honors, for scene work.

Our athletic teams were very successful this year, with the majority of our teams advancing beyond regular season play. One of our girls on the track team won the state championship for the 100m hurdles event.

We would like to thank all of the parents, faculty and staff, community, and businesses for their support as we progress toward our goal. Without your assistance, our continued progress would not be possible.
