REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

The School of the Arts is proud to announce, once again, that it has been recognized as one of the top five schools in the state. This honor is based on the school's strong SAT scores, which this year averaged 1,623. U.S. News & World Report announced in December that the School of the Arts was one of the top 500 schools in the nation.

Our fine arts programs are nationally known. Scholastic art and writing awards, "Superior" ratings at many nationally adjudicated band, orchestra, vocal music competitions, stunning theatrical performances, and amazing dance and piano recitals garner the school an ever-increasing array of honors and awards.

Scores in the school's seven Advanced Placement courses are among the highest in the school district. PACT, MAP, HSAP, and End-of-course scores are equally impressive. Students and teachers work hard daily and bring repeated recognition to the school in the form of Palmetto Gold Awards, Closing the Achievement Gap Awards, and college and university scholarships for seniors that exceeded $3.5 million last year.

Superior academic achievement is partly due to the school's strong technology resources. The School of the Arts greatly increased these resources this year by adding 24 new Dell computers to the T-20 lab. Twenty SmartBoards are used daily for math, science, and English instruction.

In addition to the School of the Arts' strong academic and arts program, the school prides itself in its diverse student body. Students truly come from every part of the county. Many students have also traveled widely, living in various parts of the world for extended periods of time. School of the Arts students tend to be very sophisticated, highly creative, and independent thinkers who are motivated, curious, respectful, considerate, multi-talented, problem-solving, and artistic.

Challenging students to think critically, analyze ideas, present persuasive arguments, consider different viewpoints, test hypotheses, and make connections is one of the primary goals of the school. It is our hope that every day we engage students fully in the business of learning, giving them the opportunity to make their own discoveries and define their own dreams. We care for our students, believe in our students, and encourage them to reach beyond their current grasp. Together, we are all on a mission to develop passionate and committed artists who seek to share those talents with others.

Myrna Caldwell, Interim Principal
Terry Murphy, School Improvement Council Chair
