District Superintendent's Report

Spartanburg School District Four continues to promote excellence in all our academic and co-curricular programs. Leadership from a strong and visionary school board provides the foundation on which administrators, teachers, staff, students, families, and the entire community can build an effective educational system. Facilities that are well-maintained offer a safe and well-adapted physical environment in which students and faculty can engage in the teaching-learning process. In addition, spaces for pursuit of students' artistic and athletic endeavors are among the best anywhere. Materials and supplies necessary for developing and demonstrating knowledge and skill are available to all students as they engage in class activities and complete assignments related to a rigorous curriculum. Students from four-year-old kindergarten through grade 12 are taught by highly qualified instructors who are supported by highly effective administrators in each school and throughout the district. The 2009-2010 school year will bring another opportunity for our school district and community to meet challenges and continue to provide the best educational experience possible for all the students of all the families of Spartanburg School District Four.

Together, we can meet these challenges and provide our students with the excellent school system they all deserve.

Dr. Rallie Liston, Superintendent
