REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

It has been a successful year at Batesburg-Leesville Elementary School (BLES). The BLES learning community continues to prepare students to be productive citizens and lifelong learners.

This year, students, teachers, staff, and the greater community continued their focus on a positive character trait of the month and recognized students who exhibited good character. Additionally, faculty and staff committed to implementation of Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports (PBIS) and received training to begin this program that recognizes students for good behavior. Students continued to focus on service learning projects such as planting in the school's SC Butterfly Garden, composting, and recycling. As recipients of the USDA's Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Grant, the school community learned more about the importance of a healthy diet. Similarly, teachers emphasized the value of physical fitness via the implementation of Fitness Grams.

Academically, the school restructured and became departmentalized. Departmentalization placed a renewed emphasis on each of the core subjects, with the end result being dramatic increases in test scores in science and social studies. Teachers continued to use assessment data such as Measures of Academic Progress (MAP) and Developmental Reading Assessment (DRA) to plan for differentiated instruction. After one year's implementation of Balanced Literacy (with the emphasis on small group instruction based on DRA reading level), the gap between those who are "below grade level" and "on grade level" narrowed. In mathematics, more attention was given to small group instruction and mastering the basic math facts. Mathematics teachers committed to teaching Everyday Math and participated in staff development in preparation for this new way of teaching mathematics. For the first time, students participated in Math Fest (a statewide math competition). Students from Batesburg-Leesville Elementary School placed second in competition with students from all over the state. Students in fifth grade participated in a school science fair, and school winners participated in the USC Regional Science Fair. The school walked away with three regional winners. Much of the school's success in English Language Arts, mathematics, and science may be attributed to the use of instructional coaches in the areas of literacy, mathematics, and science. These instructional coaches are instrumental in assisting teachers in using assessment data to planning for instruction that matches the state's standards. The instructional coaches' abilities to pull resources together for teachers, gives the regular classroom teacher more time to spend on direct instruction.

The school continues to improve its relationship with parents and the greater community through business and faith based partnerships, School Improvement Council, Parent Teacher Organization, and the mentoring program. This year, BLES has improved its commitment to prepare students to contribute to their world through both service and academics.
