District Superintendent's Report

Dear Charleston County School District (CCSD) Parents and Community Members:

Two years ago, we established a bold new strategic plan, Charleston Achieving Excellence ("CAE"). This plan established three core goals—close the achievement gap, elevate achievement overall, and increase the graduation rate. Now in year two of CAE, our students and schools are making significant progress.

This year, 50 CCSD schools made Adequate Yearly Progress ("AYP") according to No Child Left Behind targets—more than double from last year's number of 21. 47% of our students now attend "Excellent" rated schools, compared to only 19% of students statewide. In every subject and grade tested, our students earned higher Exemplary marks on the Palmetto Assessment of State Standards than their peers across the state. We continued to lead the state in the number of Palmetto Gold and Silver Awards won, and our high school seniors earned a record $46,000,000 in scholarships.

There were other signs of excellence. Lucy Beckham from Wando High School was named the 2010 National Principal of the Year (MetLife/NASSP). Katherine Henderson from West Ashley High School won the prestigious Milken Award—often called the "Oscar of teaching"—and Stiles Point Elementary School's Mary Beth Meggett won the Presidential Award for Excellence in Mathematics and Science Teaching. U.S. News and World Report named Academic Magnet High School the Best Magnet High School in the Nation, and placed Garrett Academy of Technology and Charleston County School of the Arts among the country's best schools. In addition, our 2005-2010 capital plan brought 17 new or fully-renovated schools to the county and continued to transform our district and modernize our classrooms.

We improved teacher effectiveness by expanding our "Teacher Outstanding Performance" (TOP) program into the middle grades. TOP teachers earned privately-funded cash awards for student growth in ELA and Math (based on a national comparison group). We will work with our teachers and business partners to expand TOP and create a teacher-friendly evaluation and compensation system that recognizes student growth and treats teachers—whose impact on student achievement overshadows all other factors—like the consummate professionals they are.

Recognizing the need to improve literacy and close achievement gaps, we greatly expanded Early Childhood and launched a new district-wide literacy plan, "Accelerated Literacy Pathways." First, Third, and Sixth Grade Academies will bring much needed resources and proven interventions to students who require them the most.

All of these efforts amplify our four strategic priorities—Teacher Quality, Literacy Improvement, World-Class Learning Facilities and Programs, and Strategic Partnerships. We know that by investing in these priority areas, our students will continue to improve, and we will realize our vision of every child graduating with the skills necessary to succeed in college and the 21st Century workforce.

Dr. Nancy J. McGinley, Superintendent of Schools
