Report of Principal and School Improvement Council

A.J. Whittenberg Elementary School of Engineering is the first elementary school in South Carolina with a school-wide engineering curriculum. The school is one of the first schools in the nation to integrate computer technology with children as young as 4 years old and to issue HP Tablet Computers to all second grade students for classwork and homework. The innovation is apparent in many ways - from its partnership with the Salvation Army's Kroc Center, to the learning emphasis as an engineering school, and to its emphasis on a healthy lifestyle.

The School Improvement Council (SIC) voted and determined that the top priority for this initial school year would be to research and make recommendations concerning school uniforms. All parents were invited to join the SIC and help shape the uniform policy. Each month every committee reported to the SIC as a whole with research, information, and samples of data collected. Once all information was compiled the SIC reported the findings to the PTA. Information and surveys were further shared with parents and the community through the internet as well as distributing hardcopies. Through the hard work and dedication of all stakeholders, school uniforms, as the first initiative of the SIC was achieved for the 2011-2012 school year. Other school wide achievements include raising over $400,000 to support innovative programs, student designed and community built playground, one of a kind curriculum, monthly partnerships with engineering organizations, supportive and successful PTA organized, and Odyssey of the Mind Primary Team State Champions - Best Team Work and Most Humorous Presentation.
