REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

Charleston Progressive Academy (CPA) is a Title I countywide magnet school focusing on fitness and leadership. The grade configuration is pre-kindergarten through sixth with an enrollment of 361 students. As in the past six years our instructional staff has remained stable and every teacher and teacher assistant is highly qualified as specified under No Child Left Behind. Faculty members have received various grants in the academic and fitness areas through Donor's Choose, Charleston County School District and the State Department of Education (SDE). This year through the SDE, CPA added the Farm to School and Fruit and Vegetable Grants.

CPA continues to be proud of its successes: achieving AYP (met 13 out of 13 objectives) and a repeat recipient of the Palmetto Silver Award due to our 2011 school report card improvement rating (Good). Our efforts in our reading program were rewarded with CPA receiving exemplary honors by Charleston County Community of Readers for the fourth consecutive year. Annually, students publish their own books through Nationwide Publishing to integrate the school's magnet leadership focus with literacy.

Every year the instructional staff along with the school's leadership team decides upon school wide initiatives that would enhance and strengthen the academic progress of CPA's students. We chose to place extra focus on math by conducting Math Instructional Nights and implementing the problem of the week to enhance our students' mathematical skills.

To meet the learning needs, styles, and many levels of our students we have continued implementing our AM Activities Program. It provides students with physical, academic, and social activities prior to the instructional day. CPA also operates two after school programs, Kaleidoscope for grades CD through second and 21st Century for grades three through six. Certified teachers are employed in the 21st Century Program to give students of the tested grades additional instructional assistance and enrichment. Other interventions that were used to address students' needs were various computerized instructional programs.

Although Charleston Progressive Academy has some challenges, they are limited. Our goal for the last two years has been to increase parental involvement. We are delighted to report that our PTA has led the way in this area. Our membership has tripled and parents participated in both the SC PTA Conference and Parents Leading the Way Conference through Title I for the second year. We are proud of the work and the support that the PTA Board continues to provide to the CPA teachers and administration and their involvement in the rebuild project of CPA as we look forward to our return to the downtown area in August of 2013.
