REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT

Aiken County is South Carolina's fifth largest public school district educating a diverse population of nearly 25,000 students in 20 elementary schools, 11 middle schools, 7 high schools, 3 charter schools, a career and technology center, and an adult education program. Our primary focus is to enable all students to become productive members of society, empowered with the knowledge and ability necessary to compete and contribute in a global society by providing challenging and rewarding academic and extra-curricular experiences. In 2012-2013 our schools continued the tradition of excellence in the Palmetto Gold and Silver awards program with sixteen schools being acclaimed for academic achievement and eight recognized for closing the achievement gap. North Augusta High School was named to the South Carolina School Improvement Council Excellence Honor Roll for significant efforts to foster civic engagement in public education. Hammond Hill Elementary was named Palmetto's Finest, and South Aiken High School was recognized as a top school in both Newsweek and U. S. News and World Report. Aiken County students taking SAT and ACT national assessments continued to perform above the state average and matched the ACT national average. Our graduates again set a district record in 2013 by earning over $45.3 million in scholarships.

We attribute our enduring success to our emphasis on reading achievement, our early focus on Common Core State Standards, our collaborative approach to curricular alignment, and school restructuring based on Making Middle Grades Work and High Schools That Work. The District also continues to emphasize reading success with intervention services in elementary schools focusing individual and small group intervention on struggling readers. In addition, working closely with our local colleges, we are preparing students for post high school success by increasing the number in dual-enrollment and concurrent enrollment classes. Partnerships with local colleges also included continued education courses for teachers, an expanded algebra I and II alignment project, an elementary fractions institute and a primary numeration institute. Extracurricular and supplemental programs such as the FFA, culinary arts, drama, visual arts, vocal performance, FBLA, and Career and Technology Education (CATE) programs received numerous state and national awards and recognition. Students were honored for state and national citizenship, artistic endeavors, and athletic accomplishments. South Aiken High School's golf and tennis teams each won state championships. Our JROTC programs were recognized as state and national winners in drill, rifle, and academic competitions. Schools and teachers regularly receive grants and awards for science, math, arts, literacy, social studies, and healthy living programs. Ten schools received grants to expand their efforts with Project Unify, an initiative to build bridges between general and special education students. As superintendent of Aiken County Public Schools, I am afforded the distinct opportunity to work alongside highly motivated, qualified faculty and staff. With the shared vision of academic success, our communities and the Aiken County Public School District will surpass goals and set the achievement bar even higher during the 2013-14 school year.
