REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT

Even in a district with a poverty level of 86.74% and severe funding challenges, many successes are being realized. During the 2012-2013 school year, TEAM COLLETON has had many opportunities to celebrate. Four schools (Bells Elementary, Black Street Early Childhood Center, Hendersonville Elementary, and Colleton County High School) were recognized as National Bronze Healthy Alliance winners. The district expanded the 4K program to include full day classes. All elementary schools earned an "A" or "B" ESEA rating. Two schools – Bells Elementary and Hendersonville Elementary – were awarded TAP grants. Palmetto Silver Awards were bestowed on Cottageville Elementary School, Edisto Beach Elementary, and Forest Hills Elementary. Gains in PASS scores were realized in middle school English/Language Arts, elementary math and elementary science. As a result of its conversion to a STEM school, two STEM Fair nights were held with over 1,000 students showcasing their work. Colleton County Middle were motivated by their first robotics competition. The high school experienced stability in its improved graduation rate and drop-out rate. There was also an increase in the HSAP passage rate. Colleton County High School student council received several top recognitions including best 4-A student council in the state, the Gavel Award, named a "Gold" council, and is home to the new state president. Also celebrated was the district receiving AdvancED Accreditation. These successes would not be realized without the tremendous support received from parents and community partners. The district in return supports the community through Relay for Life, Heroes for Fire Victims, and March for Babies. It is evident that we are taking great strides to live up to our motto "Making a World of Difference to Make a Different World." Leila Williams, Superintendent
