District Superintendent's Report

Laurens County School District 55 continues to provide excellent educational opportunities for all students. The district’s success would not be possible without the support of its stakeholders. The community, board of trustees, and district employees strive to provide an environment in which each student can reach his/her maximum potential.

Seven schools were recently honored as Palmetto Gold and Silver winners by the South Carolina Education Oversight Committee. These awards recognize exceptional academic performance and progress in closing achievement gaps.

Waterloo Elementary School received the 2013 South Carolina Title I Distinguished School award for overall student achievement.

The district dropout rate has decreased, and the graduation rate has increased. The graduating class of 2014 earned in excess of $3.2 million in scholarship funds.

The student judiciary court implemented this year is helping to eliminate excessive truancy and tardies throughout the district.

The district continues to focus attention on safety plans and security measures at all schools. Safety of the students and personnel remains the number one priority in Laurens School District 55. In addition to new security equipment, the district has increased the number of school resource officers (SROs).

The public education system has faced difficult economic times during the last several years. District 55 has a long history of applying for and receiving grant funds that help offset the financial hardships and to enhance learning opportunities for students and staff. During 2013-2014, grant funds in excess of $500,000 provided academic support and enrichment activities for students, summer learning opportunities for students and staff, and enhancements in technology and instruction for the fine arts program.

District 55 has received a portion of a $6.8 million Youth Career Connect Program Grant from the U.S. Department of Labor. The Carolina Alliance for Technology grant will provide hands-on training and opportunities to connect student learning to the real world.

Please continue to support the efforts of District 55’s quest for excellence.
