REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

As an International Baccalaureate World School, Jesse Boyd Elementary is part of a global network of schools committed to developing the intellectual, personal, emotional and social skills students need to become lifelong learners and leaders. Each day our students are challenged by highly qualified and dedicated faculty, a strong curriculum, active parents and a strong supportive community. Our School Improvement Council, Parent Teacher Student Organization, and the Jesse Boyd faculty and staff strive to provide academic rigor as well as develop our children into responsible citizens. The IB Learner Profile is a major focus within our school and is used as a tool for character development. Our 5th grade exhibition project this year studied education systems around the world. The action project was to tutor students throughout our school to help them achieve hero status, which was our school’s theme this year. As part of Spartanburg School District 7’s accreditation, JBE is a nationally AdvancED accredited school. All stakeholders contributed to the school renewal plan that continues to guide us through our next accreditation phase and IB reauthorization visit. Our school theme this year was Heroes. As we taught our children, a hero is someone who does more than is expected, and JBE continues to grow a network of heroes who do just that in our schools every day. JBE continues to have strong partnerships with our community and be recognized for those partnerships. We became a Safe Routes to School Gold Partner this school year, Partners for Active Living Healthy School Initiative grant winner, a Rebook grant winner, and winners of two Spartanburg Junior League grants. Our partnership with Wofford College grew this year to include over 40 football players as mentors for our students, and we established two new partnerships with local churches to provide mentors and tutors for our students. Community involvement still fuels our efforts for ensuring academic and social success for each of our students. We have an extremely involved PTSO and SIC logging countless hours of volunteer work at JBE. Our SIC worked on projects such as our providing science volunteers, establishing a wellness policy and our Safe Routes to School Initiative. Our PTSO helped plan and fund wonderful nights such as Hero Night, Science Night, Spooktacular, and MessFest. JBE is a leader in offering activities for students. Students have numerous opportunities to develop themselves mentally, emotionally, physically and socially. These include: musical production, fitness clubs, art club, chorus, recycling club, safety patrol, student council, IB student leadership, running club, and media clubs. Everyone that works at and with JBE desires to help each child achieve his/her greatest academic and personal potential. Together, all stakeholders work to make sure that every child is given every opportunity to succeed!
