Mitchell Math and Science Elementary is helping all students develop the world class skills and life and career characteristics of the Profile of the South Carolina Graduate by focusing on a rigorous STEM (science, technology, engineering, math) curriculum. Lessons are designed to promote critical thinking and problem solving through teamwork and collaboration. As a personalized learning school we structure lessons to meet the students' needs individually. This allows students to learn how to persevere and become self-directed in their learning. All students have access to iPads, allowing for additional skills to be taught through technology. As a PBIS school, there is a school-wide discipline plan allowing students to develop interpersonal skills that will help them throughout their lives.

We have a wide range of community partnerships who contribute to our focus on health and wellness. Our students participate in our Action Based Learning Lab and yoga weekly. In addition, we work in collaboration with the Green Heart Project to show the importance of not only growing your own vegetables, but knowing how to incorporate what you grow into a healthy life style.

Through the generous donations from the Unitarian Church we are able to expose all of our students to several field trips each year. These field trips, such as visiting the Boeing Plant, an Urban Farm or Birds of Prey, build on our STEM focus and allow students first-hand experiences in what a future in that career field could hold for them.

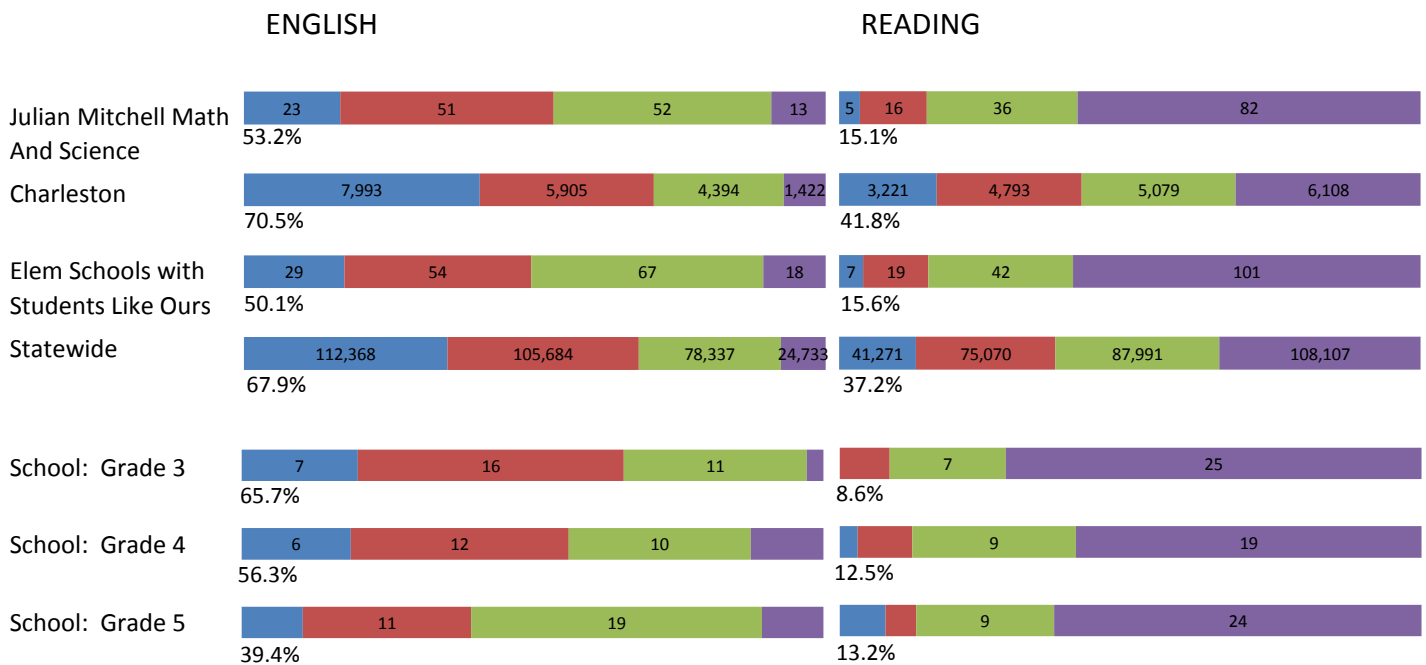

Along with our community support, a vast number of volunteers, and our many partnerships, we feel Mitchell is a true "Gem of the City."
