WORLD CLASS SKILLS & LIFE AND CAREER CHARACTERISTICS

Pleasant Hill Middle School is helping all students develop the world-class skills and life and career characteristics of the Profile of the South Carolina Graduate by offering educational experiences that allow our students to become self-advocating global citizens who are technologically advanced and self-directed critical thinkers. We demonstrate this vision by challenging our students and teachers to become deep learners who are collaboratively connected to each other and our world.

The teachers at Pleasant Hill Middle School work to improve their instruction by attending weekly professional development sessions where they discuss methodologies, receive training, chart student data progress, participate in book studies and collaborate with the school Data Integration Specialist, Technology Integration Specialist and administrative team. Teachers are organized into collaborative teams designed to support students and create a school-within-a-school environment.

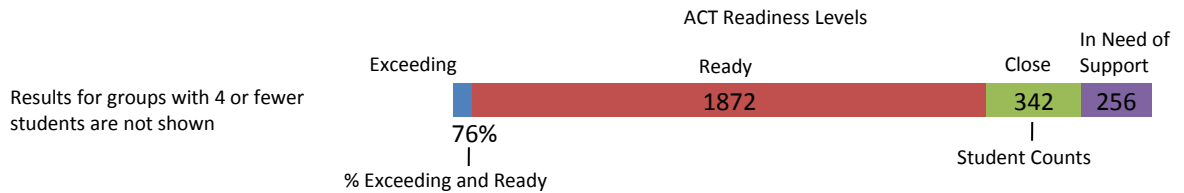

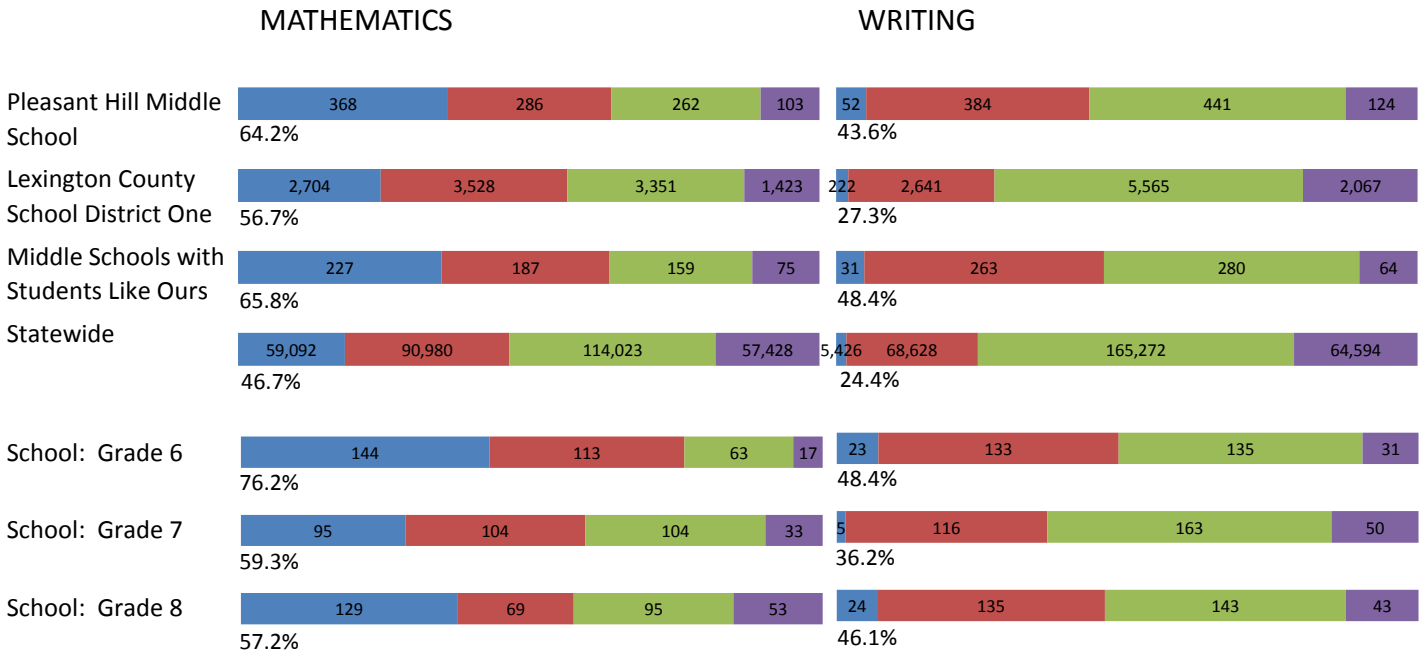

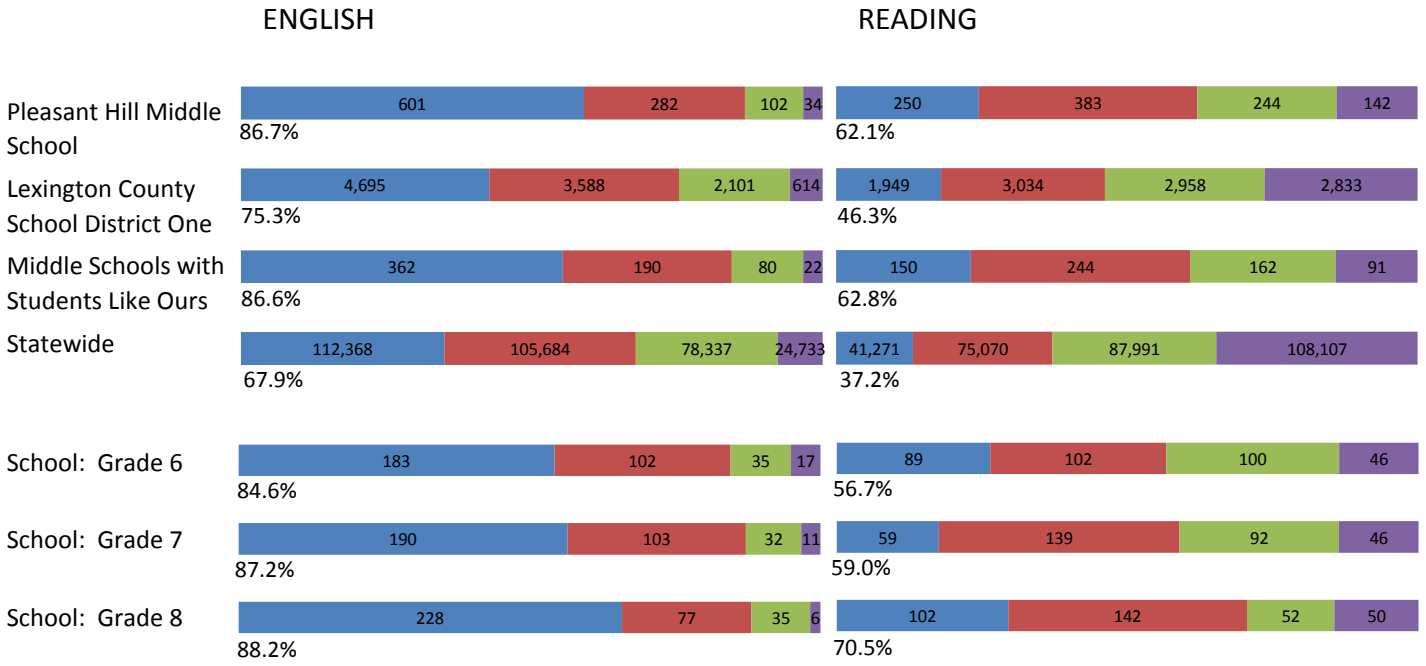

Pleasant Hill Middle School strives to help students to become successful at their own rate of learning by offering them Independent Learning Time (ILT) each morning for enrichment and conferences with teachers. The school also allows students ample time for academic support and intervention through the Cougar Success Institute (CSI), a program during school hours that ensures students complete missing assignments after in-class opportunities have been exhausted. We introduced Schoology this year. A learning management tool, it helps teachers and students collaborate using their iPads, and helps students complete research, take quizzes and tests, and access classroom materials and resources.

This year, the school was awarded an Arts in the Basic Curriculum (ABC) Grant from the South Carolina Arts Commission. The funds from this grant were used to provide students with a multitude of professional artistic experiences that included sculptors, workshops with dancers, a novelist, a professional vocalist, pianist, actors and actresses, authors and professors. Students extended their appreciation for the Arts by traveling to Charleston and Orlando with the Band class and to New York with the Musical Theatre and Orchestra classes.

At Pleasant Hill Middle School, we are very fortunate to have great students, families and a community that supports the education of all of our students. We thank you for your continued support and for helping us to produce and develop the leaders of our future.
