Blenheim Elementary/Middle School (BEMS) is helping all students develop the world class skills, life, and career characteristics of the Profile of the Graduate by offering our students and faculty numerous opportunities beginning in 2014-2015 and continuing next year. In the area of World Class Knowledge, we trained two staff members in Automaticity and Robotics through the Boeing Project Lead the Way (PLTW) grant. In our first year of PLTW, 15 middle level students were provided STEM instruction. For third grade students, Challenge to Achieve (CTA) funds provided "Engineering is Elementary" – a STEM curriculum. Additionally, almost 200 laptops were purchased with CTA funds to increase the opportunity for students to utilize technology in the classroom. Teachers used this technology to conduct research, complete project-based learning activities, and conduct science simulations with the Gizmos program.

In the World Class Skills area, our faculty and staff experienced professional development throughout the school year on developing the following skills through the TAP initiative and Challenge to Achieve State support: creativity and innovation; critical thinking and problem solving; collaboration and teamwork; communication, information, media and technology; and knowing how to learn. Specifically, we have developed the skills and understanding for the faculty of what each of these skills looks like in regards to learning for our 21st Century learners. Next school year, we plan to implement various strategies to employ within student instruction like project-based learning, inquiry learning, and ensuring that the learning is at the appropriate cognitive level using Webb's Depth of Knowledge. For Life and Career Characteristics, our guidance program and Career Facilitator have worked with teachers to facilitate career exploration in the elementary and middle levels. Through a variety of field trips to colleges and universities, manufacturing plants, and our Career Day program, students were introduced to numerous careers that are available to them in today's society. Next year, all eighth grade students will have a full nine weeks of career exploration in their career cluster facilitated by two classroom teachers. We will continue to expose all of our students to college, university and technical school experiences and speakers who share their careers. By implementing the Olweus Bullying Program, character qualities and lifelong positive social skills will be integrated into the general education curriculum. Coupled with the positive student incentive activities and character education emphasis through our guidance department we have currently, students will be provided numerous opportunities to experience and develop the life and career characteristics necessary for 21st Century success. Great things are happening at Blenheim Elementary/Middle School! With continued professional growth, excellent parent involvement, and improved school culture, we believe that the Eagles will continue to soar to new heights of success!
